For Immediate Release

WALKER TEXTURES™ SATINLITE
A LIGHT ACID-ETCHED GLASS FINISH

Montreal, April 22, 2014 - Walker Glass is proud to announce the launch of the Walker Textures™ Satinlite program. Since its strong pre-launch last fall, this new acid-etched finish is now available to the market at large.

The new Walker Textures™ Satinlite is more than just a light acid-etched finish. Satinlite can be used in endless types of applications. Just like other Walker Textures™ finishes, it can be used in interior or exterior applications. Its refined etching removes the glare from the surface of the glass making the colors and images stand out! Satinlite has been tested for wear and stain resistance and surface hardness; in all cases the performance is either equal or superior to float glass. It is available in various substrates and thicknesses from 3MM to 12MM. Some substrates such as the 6MM Starphire are available in quantities less than 4,000 pounds.

“Satinlite is a very exciting product for us. We see it being used in all kinds of different markets and applications such as marker boards, shelves, tabletops and where scratch resistance and glare reduction are needed. This program will give greater flexibility to our clients.” says Ross Christie, V-P Sales & Marketing.
